A man in a grey jacket and a blue face mask is seated at a black grand piano, playing. He is wearing a blue surgical mask. A microphone is positioned in front of him. The piano is equipped with various electronic equipment, including a laptop on a table to the left, a mixer, and two large black speakers on stands. A video is projected onto the wall behind the piano, showing a scene with several people, including a woman in a white headscarf. The room has large windows on the left and right sides, and a fire extinguisher is visible on the wall. In the foreground, the backs of several blue chairs and the heads of people sitting in the audience are visible.
